FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 27, 1905.

Plain Palpable Robbery

SENATOR WILLIAM A. CLARK, of Montana, who is at Paris and is quoted in the New York World cable dispatches, refers to the contributions of insurance companies to political funds as "plain, palpable robbery," and he says of the effect upon European confidence in American business methods:

The action of the men who controlled our big insurance companies is the most cruel shake and shock ever given to the confidence of the thrifty poor of America. That these scandals should have injured American companies in Europe is no wonder. I find in my travels through the continent that American business methods are now sneered at by Europeans.

THE optimist is having his innings. The agitation in favor of better conditions which we see in Albuquerque is not local. It is to be found all over the country. As a people we are growing better. There is a moral ferment in the land. We are pushing up to a new and higher plane. New legal safeguards are being steadily provided for the protection of the public. Never before was organized society so solicitous for the welfare of the poor and the obscure. Never before was so much asked, both by law and by public opinion, of the rich and the conspicuous. We may not be travelling fast enough to suit idealists, but that we are traveling, and in the right direction, cannot be doubted.

ACCORDING to the Railway Age of Chicago, railroad equipment contracted for this year promises to go beyond all precedent. Its records for the year to date show orders given for more freight cars than for the whole year 1902, which has held the record, and nearly twice as many as for the whole year 1903. Locomotives so far ordered considerably outnumber those contracted for in either 1904 or 1903, and already closely approach the 1902 high record. The rush for steel rails and other material has been similarly striking. This reflects the opinion of railroad managers regarding the business outlook.

TWO electricians in Sioux City, Ia., M. L. Garret and E. W. Preston, claim to have patented an invention by which it will be possible to talk around the world. This proposition is no more remarkable than some things which have been achieved in our time. Details may well be reserved until competent authorities see that the large claims made by these men are well based.

THE sculptor who made all the angels in the Belmont Memorial Chapel females has not explained whether he did it because he admired women or understood men.—San Francisco News-Letter.

WHILE Mr. Bryan is in the Holy Land he should not fail to locate the spot where Judas got his thirty pieces of silver, and erect a monument there.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

PUEBLO, Colo., is ready for a visit from Mr. Cleveland. It has put a woman on the police force.—Kansas City Star.

"GRAIT" is the full-dress name for what we call "bribery" and "theft" when it is in shirt sleeves.—Baltimore Sun.

MR. McCALL had a great deal to do," says Vice President Buckner. Yes, and a great many to do.—Houston Post.

Go to the Meeting Today

GO to the meeting which is to be held in the Commercial club parlors at two o'clock this afternoon. The object is one in which every good man or woman in Albuquerque has an interest—that is, to consider ways of providing means for taking care of sick people who are without the necessary means for taking care of themselves. This is a charity which appeals to all classes of the community, and all should take sufficient interest in the matter to go to the meeting today and assist by advice or suggestion in devising a way to raise money for this very laudable and necessary purpose.

It may be true, as you say, that other towns, not only in this territory but in Arizona also, unload their impecunious invalids upon us, because they know "Albuquerque will take care of them," but when a man is sick and penniless he can not be left to die, without care, food or medicine, no matter if he was shipped here by the people of some town better able to care for him than we are—and what to do in such cases is one of the questions to be considered at today's meeting. We claim to be a civilized and Christian community, and we cannot escape those duties that we owe to unfortunate fellow creatures by pleading the barbarous conduct of other communities. Our action in caring for such persons as have been "unloaded" upon us is all the more creditable to us because of the discreditable conduct of those other communities. If a man is sick or in distress we must assist him, no matter how he came to be among us. The mantle of charity must have no holes in it. We may feel that we are outraged in being obliged to bear burdens which properly belong to others, but we will be abundantly compensated for all the wrongs thus put upon us when the great judge shall say—"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

SINCE the State of Pennsylvania appears to be the greatest loser by the failure, it will be interesting to watch the developments. For many years the most brutal and corrupt machine of all political history has had control of the state government. In one way and another millions of dollars have been stolen, government by the people has well nigh been strangled and corporations have been given a free hand. The conditions in Philadelphia, lately revealed, are merely a reflex of the conditions prevailing in the state government and in most of the local governments. The highest officials are men notoriously corrupt. The judiciary of the state is a disgrace to civilization.—Houston Post.

THE thief who robbed Admiral Bowles' house and then, out of admiration for the officer's record of gallantry, returned the loot, is as gentlemanly a villain as was the celebrated handi to whom Bishop Whipple objected, "But, sir, I am bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Minnesota," receiving the reply, "The mischief you are. Why, that's my church, too."—Boston Transcript.

REPRESENTATIVE LANDIS, of Indiana, who has undertaken to present a bill for the reduction of expenses in the government printing office is of the opinion that the most urgent need is a larger waste basket. Government clerks and chiefs of bureaus, are prolific writers and not all that they write is fit to print.

GRATEFUL persons have erected a monument in France to the discoverer of quinine. It is now up to Kentucky to accord equal honor to the discoverer of the other ingredient of the standard remedy for colds.—Pittsburg Gazette.

A Vancouver judge has given a rejected suitor damages for time wasted while courting the object of his desire. No word is said of overtime.

Miss Leona Love, a loving Denver girl, had her sweetheart jailed for theft just to tease him. It seems likely that Tootsie was properly teased.

Colonel Simms, of West Virginia, filled a royal flush in a poker game the other day—and fell dead. Had the colonel lived the damage would probably have been greater.

An actor in Mexico was fined recently for smoking on the stage. Was the official enforcing the law against smoking in theaters, or was he just having mercy on the audience?

The Almanac's statehood weather predictions will be read with interest from now on as the barometer is beginning to fall and the weather vane is taking a violent turn to windward.

Miss Roosevelt declined to talk of her reported engagement to Congressman Longworth. Miss Alice knows the American newspaper reporter well enough to know that she didn't have to.

"The Tarantula as a Tonic" is the caption of a scientific editorial in the Washington Star. We have some experts down here who can testify as to the tonic effect of extract of Tarantula.

While he is in Mexico Elijah Dowd should ascend Popocatepetl on a day when the old volcano is working, and could then get an exact conception of that ascending-in-a-chaotic-fire feeling.

Mr. Carnegie declines surplus wealth as follows: "I mean all that remains after you have given those dependent upon you the revenue necessary for modest and independent living." Doubtless that is the way President McCurdy, of the Mutual, viewed it when he divided up with the policyholders.

Colonel Frost, the able editor of the Almanac, just back from Washington says that the people may draw their own conclusions as to the statehood situation. This is a privilege which the Common Sense will doubtless appreciate after the Almanac's somewhat strenuous endeavors to supply him with ready made conclusions.

Uncle Sam Needs College Men.

"The economic work of the government is growing rapidly," declared Dr. E. D. Durand, special examiner for the United States bureau of corporations, in the conference on commercial education at the University of Illinois. "We need large numbers of good men trained in the schools of commerce. The desirability of having these men is realized more every day by the powers that be."

"The commerce and labor department offers the broadest field. The agricultural, vital statistics, mining, interstate commerce and railroad bureaus ought to demand special economic training of their employees."

"The diplomatic service also would be improved by such men. The consular employees are not under the civil service rules, and appointments have been made without much regard to fitness, but a change is in sight."

"That the government pays too much to clerks and too little to men in responsible positions is a well known fact. Field work in the corporation bureau especially demands high grade men. The facts are highly difficult to get at sometimes."

"The training which this university is planning to give in business methods ought to be an adequate preparation for government service. A broad foundation is necessary."

"The majority of people little dream as they gaze with awe at the beautiful compilations sent out by the government department of the slovenly manner in which the statistical forms are drawn up. Many of the reports sent out are worthless and meaningless because of this. The trouble is that the government has put cheap clerks on the work that should be done by expert statisticians."

Like Missionaries Better.

Redlands, Oct. 26.—The Presbyterian Synod of California will meet at San Rafael next year, the selection having been made this morning. Miss Cameron spoke today on the Chinese Rescue Home at San Francisco, telling of the work of evangelization through the return to China of rescued girls. In an address Rev. J. H. Laughlin, of San Francisco, who was in China during the boxer movement, showed that there had been a change in favor of the missionaries since the uprising. This morning reports of committees were read.

STOPS ANY ITCHING.

Don't Ointment Cures Eczema and Itching Piles. Albuquerque People Recommend It.

One application of Doan's Ointment stops any itching. Short treatment cures eczema, itching piles, salt rheum—any skin eruption or skin itching. It is the cheapest remedy to use, because so little of it is required to bring relief and a cure. Here is Albuquerque testimony to prove it:

Mrs. R. E. Waite, rooming house, 202 North Second street, says:

"There came to my notice some time ago a case of eczema, or of some disease of the skin, which had resisted all the efforts of the party to stop it. Doan's Ointment was procured at the Alvarado pharmacy and a course of the treatment commenced. It gave positive relief after an application or two and upon a continuation of it for some time the annoying ailment disappeared. This information should be of untold value to residents of Albuquerque who are in quest of an article upon which they can depend to cure any itchiness of the skin or eruption thereof."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Timely Suggestions

We are surrounded by suggestions of approaching winter, but the most suggestive thing to be seen is our large line of High Grade Heaters. They suggest to the mind, and picture to the mind's eye howling winds and drifting snow on the outside, and a warm glow within, which is the result of the highest art in stove-making. It radiates a glowing warmth evenly all over the room or two or three rooms if you have them connected.
